

Ubuntu 6x Installation

1. (1 minute) Prep for install: Press the power switch, then the CD tray button, then the Del key
The Del key in this lab starts the BIOS
 - a. Insert the Ubuntu CD in the tray
2. (2 minutes) BIOS: where we can configure the boot order
 - a. Arrow → to the BOOT menu
 - b. Press Enter  to access
 - c. Arrow down to Boot Device Priority
 - d. Target device order (names will vary)
 1. CD
 2. Hard Drive
 3. Floppy
 - e. If this is the case, Press F10 to save and exit
 - f. If this is NOT the case:
 - i. Move down to item #1 and hit Enter
 - ii. Arrow to the CD and hit Enter
 - iii. If needed, repeat for #2 and #3
 - g. Press F10 to save and exit
3. (25 minutes) (25 minutes) Default Installation: The system should boot from the Ubuntu CD
 - a. For installation, Choose Install and press ENTER
 - b. Choose Language
English should be selected, Enter
 - c. Select a keyboard layout
Your keyboard is: American English, Enter
 - d. Choose Chicago to get the Central Time Zone, Enter
 - e. Hostname:
make sure num lock is on
For name, enter computer number, such as 522-25
For username, enter generic (lowercase)
For password, enter Password1, and repeat (Must be capital P, and number 1)
For machine name, enter computer number without the dash, such as 52225
[Tab] can be used to move from field to field, then Enter
 - f. Partition disks
 - i. Partitioning Method:
Erase entire disk (/dev/hda)
 - g. Finish the installation
 - i. Continue, Enter
 - ii. wait for it to eject the CD
 - iii take CD out, to continue, Enter
 - iii. reboots for configuration and installing packages
4. Log in, using:
generic
Password1
5. Explore the GNOME interface

Don't forget to complete the lab:

If completing in Windows:

- Right click the following link, and Save as yourname-lab8.rtf in your O: drive.
Using WordPad, open this file, and follow the directions in the file (also listed below).
- Discuss 10 similarities between GNOME and Windows XP (3 pt each)
 - Discuss 10 differences between GNOME and Windows XP (3 pt each)

If completing in GNOME:

- Choose Applications/Accessories/Text Editor
- Discuss 10 similarities between GNOME and Windows XP (3 pt each)
 - Discuss 10 differences between GNOME and Windows XP (3 pt each)
- Save as yourname-lab8.txt
Upload the file in D2L as described below
DELETE the text file
- Places/Computer /home/generic
 - Select yourname-lab8.txt
 - Press the [delete] key
- Log out

Save your answers to a document yourname-lab8.rtf or yourname-lab8.txt. Print the results to turn in. Upload the file as directed.
Don't forget the discussion topics