Get Ready to Succeed!

Feeling overwhelmed or apprehensive about college? Take this extra week to get prepared for the semester ahead. Zero-Week (O-Week) is the week following registration and prior to the first week of classes. The activities and programs are designed to help transfer students become acquainted with this campus and to assist first time freshmen in making a successful transition to college life.

Take this week as an opportunity to familiarize yourself with your courses, complete any outstanding paperwork, and prepare your family for life changes that may occur with your fall schedule.
