Pick Up Time Acknowledgment

I have understood that actual pick up time will be based on the "Actual Flight Arrival Time" (60 mins of free waiting time) on the chosen participation date. After the allowable waiting time passes, there will be an overtime fee of TWD150 for every succeeding 30 minutes which should be paid directly to the driver on site

PACKAGE DESCRIPTION

- One way private transfer service from Taoyuan International Airport to Taipei city
- Up to 60 minutes waiting time (based on the flight arrival time)
- During the allowable waiting time, the operator will contact you to confirm your arrival. After the allowable waiting time passes, you will be charged a fee of TWD150 for every succeeding 30 minutes. However, if the allowable time passes and the driver can't reach you through your number, it will be considered as 'no show', the driver will leave and no refunds will be issued

HOW TO USE

- You can present either a printed or a mobile voucher for this activity
- The voucher is valid only on the date and time specified
- The driver will wait in the airport arrivals hall with your name sign, please do not wait outside the airport

Arrival Pick Up Details:

- After you reach the Arrivals Hall, look for a coordinator holding a Klook signage with your name on it. The coordinator will be there between 9:00am-6:00pm
- If you arrive before or after 9:00am-6:00pm, your driver/operator will be at arrivals hall holding a signage with your name on it
- You may present either a printed or a mobile voucher to confirm your reservation

Maximum Waiting Time: 60 Mins

- After the allowable waiting time passes, you will be charged a fee of TWD150 for every succeeding 30 minutes. However, if the allowable time passes and coordinator/driver/operator/ can't reach you through your number, it will be considered as 'no show', the driver will leave and no refunds will be issued

Vehicle Overtime Charges:

- TWD150 every 30 minutes
- Based on the flight arrival, the driver will only wait for an extended number of time (overtime) if he has contacted the passengers and arranged it with them

Surcharges:

- TWD100 for flight arrival between 10:00pm and 6:00am
- TWD100 for hotel pick up between 10:00pm and 6:00am
- Remote Destinations Requiring Extra Service Fee TWD200: Taipei City: Nangang (whole district); Remote or mountain areas in Neihu, Songshan, Beitou, Shilin and Wenshan Districts / New Taipei City: Banqiao, Zhonghe, Yonghe, Tucheng, Luzhou, Bali, Xinzhuang, Wugu, Taishan and Sanchong (whole districts); City centers of Linkou, Shulin, Yingge, Sanxia, Xindian, Xizhi and Shenkeng Districts
- Remote Destinations Requiring Extra Service Fee TWD500: New Taipei City: Tamsui District (whole district)

- For remote pick up/drop off locations in areas not mentioned above, the amount of extra service fee will be decided based on the distance and should be paid to driver on site

Additional Information:

- For airport pick ups, please select your date in the calendar according to the flight arrival date e.g. if your flight arrives at 11:45pm on May 1st, please select May 1st
- As mandated by the local laws, free child safety seat is available for children under the age of 4 or weigh less than 18kg and is required to be buckled in a child safety seat
- Please note: An extra surcharge will apply for flight arrivals or hotel pick-ups between 10:00pm and 6:00am
- Please note: The driver will not contact the customer for hotel pick ups, please be sure to arrive on time at meet up location. There will be a penalty charge of TWD150 if customers do not show up on time. Once the 30 minutes waiting time is over, the driver will leave and no refunds will be issued
- You will receive the driver's contact information via text message between 8:00pm-10:00pm (Taiwan time, UTC +8) a day before your chosen pick up date
- For extra charges, please pay directly to the driver
- Based on the flight arrival, waiting time over 15 minutes will be charged with the 30 minutes overtime rate; succeeding minutes after 30 minutes will be charged with a 1 hour overtime rate
- If the confirmed flight changes in any case, please contact the driver at least 3 hours before the scheduled pick up time indicated upon check out
- Child safety seats are only available for children aged 6 months to 3 years old. Only the first safety seat is free of charge, additional TWD100 per seat will be collected in cash if more than one safety seat is requested
- You may be required to pay an extra service fee for pick up/drop off at remote destinations (please see the Surcharge section to see which districts are regarded as remote areas)

1. Nǐ hǎo/ Nǐn hǎo Pronunciation: Nee how / Neen how Hello

The common way to greet people in Taiwan is by either saying Nǐ hǎo or Nǐn hǎo and these phrases translate as “Hello.” While the former is a more relaxed manner of greeting that you’d use with friends, the latter is a formal way of saying ‘Hello’ which you should use when greeting those senior to you or when speaking with your manager or boss.

2. Xièxie Pronunciation: hsieh hsieh Thanks

This simple phrase means nothing more than “Thanks.” If you want to be extra polite, you can say Xièxie nǐ/nǐn as a more formal ‘Thank you.’ Remember, Taiwanese culture is generally very polite so this is one phrase you’ll not only want to memorise, but use frequently too!

3. Bú kèqì Pronunciation: Boo khe chee You are welcome

When you thank someone for something, this is the phrase you will hear in return. Yep, you’re right! it can mean “You’re welcome,” “Don’t mention it,” or “My pleasure.” This is another great one to add to your Mandarin vocabulary arsenal.

4. Bù hǎo yì si Pronunciation: Boo how eeh si Pardon me

If you’re caught on the local trains or buses during rush hour in Taipei, you’ll need to keep this phrase on standby for when you’re pushing your way off. It translates as ‘pardon’ or ‘excuse me’ and can also be used to get someone’s attention if you need to ask them something.

5. Duō-shǎo-qián Pronunciation: Doo oh show chee an How much?

When you visit Taiwan’s night markets you’ll notice right away that not all the cool goodies you find there have price tags. Before you break out your bartering skills you’ll want to ask Duō shǎo qián which means “How much?” If you don’t know all your numbers in Mandarin yet, don’t worry, vendors will type out the amounts on their calculators so you can see.

6. Bú yòng Pronunciation: Boo yong No (to vendor)

While Bú yòng literally translates as “No need” it’s really just a nice way to say “no” or let someone know you don’t want something. Remember, it’s important to be polite, so even when you’re being nagged by street vendors trying to sell you things you don’t want, the best term to use is Bú yòng.

7. Tīng bù dǒng Pronunciation: Teeng boo dong I don’t understand

The three most important words you’ll ever learn are probably Tīng bù dǒng. This phrase means “I don’t understand” and as a foreigner navigating the strange and exciting waters of Taiwanese culture, you’ll definitely want to have this one down pat.

8. Méi yǒu wèntí / Méi wèntí Pronunciation: May yo when tee / May when tee No Problem

These two phrases mean the same thing: “No problem.” These words can be used in many situations. A common one is to excuse someone after they apologize for, say, bumping into you. Another situation where it may come in handy is if you want to express confidence or show you’ve got something under control. It’s kind of like saying “No problem, I can handle it.”

9. Zài nǎlǐ Pronunciation: Zeye nah lee Where is...

Getting lost a few times during your trip to Taiwan is to be expected, it’s one of the risks of being a traveler, right? As long as you have this phrase on hand, you can stop anyone on the street and get directions! Most Taiwanese people are very friendly, so it shouldn’t be too hard to find someone who can point you the right way.

10. Cèsuǒ Pronunciation: Tse sue-oh bathroom

Last but not least, we have the word for “bathroom.” But don’t just go around saying Cèsuǒ to people when you’re trying to find the restroom, use all your phrase prowess and combine it with another one you learned above to say: Cèsuǒ zài nǎlǐ? (Where is the bathroom?).

Cèsuǒ zài nǎlǐ? Pronunciation: Tse sue-oh Zeye nah lee Where is the bathroom?

Easy to use for Metro Taipei and buses. You need an Easycard for the rides at Taipei Children's Amusement Park which has refundable deposit. The Tamsui Wharf experience is great. This is very convenient to have.

What To Expect

Chock full of tourist attractions and fun destinations, it would take you days to see all of Taipei's best sightseeing stops, but with this Taipei Unlimited Fun Pass, you can get one-time access to up to 12 different attractions within the city. You can opt for a one day pass, two days, or make sure you have time to see it all with a three day pass. There's so much to enjoy for the whole family! See the Taipei 101 Observatory for the views, rise to the top of the Miramar Entertainment Park Ferris Wheel, take the kids to the Taipei Children's Amusement Park or visit the one of the many museums in the city. If you're looking for a way to get around, the pass also gets you unlimited rides to the Taipei MRT (with the exception of the Maokong Gondola), unlimited rides on the Taipei and New Taipei City bus, and unlimited rides on five Taiwan Tourist Shuttle Routes. You even get a handful of Dadaocheng Exclusive e-coupons that gets you match-making cakes, free handmate desserts, and even discounted cocktails. It's the best value pass that lets you see the wonderful attractions in Taipei.

▲ See Taipei's immense collection of attractions all with one pass!

▲ See up to 12 attractions that include museums, parks and more

▲ You can opt for 1-3 days of seeing Taipei's historic sites

▲ Don't miss the opportunity to see what Taipei has to offer

▲ Get unlimited rides on multiple transport modes so you get to the attractions easily
